

Lisa Williamson
Vice President, Communications
Marina Bay Sands

Lisa Williamson is the Vice President of Communications for Marina Bay Sands. She was part of the founding team, joining the company in March 2009, just prior to the opening of the Integrated Resort. In her role, she directs the company's Communications functions including traditional Media Relations, Social Media, Visual Media, Internal Communications for over 9600 team members, Executive Communications as well as Corporate Social Responsibility and Civic outreach.

Prior to joining Marina Bay Sands, Ms. Williamson was the Managing Director of Bryant Williamson Communications, a Singapore-based integrated marketing firm that specializes in energy, commodities and financial technology. She was responsible for developing a global client base with a focus on messaging and communications architecture for the diverse Asian region. Ms. Williamson moved to Singapore with GlobalView Software Inc in 1998 to assist in setting up Marketing and Communications functions for the US-based energy trading software company in Asia.

Former roles include Thomson Financial- OMGEO, Singapore. Ms. Williamson began her career in the hospitality sector in the USA before moving to London England to perform marketing and PR functions for the opening of the Conrad at Chelsea Harbour and The Halcyon Hotel, Holland Park.

Ms. Williamson attended Pine Manor College, Chestnut Hill, MA